DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first and second tear guide lines relative cut-to-land lengths with the first tear line greater than the length of the second tear guide must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). From the drawings the relative cut-to-land ratios appear equal. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 10-15, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Aylward (US Pub. No. 2002/0166790 A1). In figure 1a a storage sheet is shown having a plurality of compartments for storing a component 110 therein, with the storage sheet having an outer perimeter and an access edge defined by the openings between tearing portions formed therein that is at least partially spaced apart from said outer perimeter. A tear guide line is located on the storage sheet that intersects the access edge such that the access edge provides access for tearing said tear guide line.

As to claim 15 a perforation line is disclosed on page 4, paragraph [0038]. In figure 1a the access opening is larger than the perforation slit.

As to claims 19 and 20, the compartment 120 defines a containment sheet with a rupture sheet 130 that is used to remove the component, see page 5, paragraph [0044].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 10, 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Katzner et al (US Patent no. 6,155,423) in view of Aylward (US Pub. No. 2002/0166790 A1). Katzner et al discloses the claimed combination of a storage sheet having a plurality of compartments for storing a component 26 therein, see figures 1-4. The difference between the claimed subject matter and Katzner et al resides in an access edge defined openings between tearing portions 28.

Aylward discloses a manner of separating dosage forms comprising an opening defining an access edge between tear portions 160. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the storage sheet of Katzner et al by constructing an access edge as taught by Aylward figure 1a, in order to provide a more easily accessed means for separating an individual dosage component from the remainder of the sheet.

As to claim 16, the tear guides 28 do not intersect with the outer perimeter of the storage sheet, see figures 1 and 3.

As to claim 17, the tear guide line 28 defines a perimeter tear guide line (with the perimeter edges) that forms a generally closed shape and said plurality of components are located inside of said generally closed shape.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 15 recites the limitation "said access opening" in line 2. Similarly claim 18 recites the limitation "said perimeter guide" in lines 2 and 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 1-9 are allowed.

9. Claim 18 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

REPLY BY APPLICANT OR PATENT OWNER TO THIS OFFICE ACTION

10. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F.R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.

If no amendments are made to claims as applicant or patent owner believes the claims are patentable without further modification, the reply must distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner's action and must respond to every ground of objection and rejection in the prior Office Action in the same vain as given above, 37 CFR 1.111 (b) & (c), M.P.E.P. 714.02.

The examiner also points out, due to the change in practice as affecting final rejections, older decisions on questions of prematurity of final rejection or admission of subsequent amendments do not necessarily reflect present practice. "Under present practice, second or any subsequent actions on the merits shall be final, except where the examiner introduces a new ground of rejection that is neither necessitated by applicant's amendment of the claims nor based on information submitted in an information disclosure statement filed during the period set forth in 37 CFR 1.97(c)" (emphasis mine), see MPEP 706.07(a).
